

FAQs: EuroQol Working Paper Series (EQ WPS)

1. Can a paper be submitted if the authorship does not include a member?

No. The corresponding author has to be a member. Exceptions might be considered at special request, sent to working.papers@euroqol.org.

2. Can a paper be submitted if the focus is not specific to the EQ-5D?

No. The paper needs to include specific EQ-5D aspects. EQ-5D aspects include applications of the instrument as well as methodological and other issues.

3. Can a paper be withdrawn by the corresponding author after publication?

The co-editors will treat every request for withdrawal independently and in consideration with the Executive Committee.

4. Can a paper be rejected if it does not follow the official EuroQol procedures, for instance, if the study does not adhere to the EQ-VT protocol or it presents results that may not correspond to the views of the EuroQol Group (mission or research agenda)?

No. Papers will be reviewed on the scientific merits. The author(s) is responsible for all contents and needs to accept the publishing conditions (see disclaimer below) before submitting the paper for review. Disclaimer: The views expressed by the authors in the publication do not necessarily reflect the views of the EuroQol Group.

5. Can a paper be published in both the Proceedings and the EQ WPS?

Yes. A paper that is published, or waiting to be published, in the Proceedings can be submitted to the EQ WPS. Once submitted, it will then go through the review process.

6. Can a paper be reviewed for the EQ WPS after being submitted to another journal?

Yes. A paper submitted to the EQ WPS will be considered for review as long as it is not accepted for publication elsewhere. However, the responsibility for checking any prepublication policy of a journal lies fully on the author(s).

7. Will the EuroQol Group own the copyright for papers published in the EQ WPS?

No. The author(s) retains ownership of the copyright. Authors are also responsible for all contents and need to accept the publishing conditions (see disclaimer below) before submitting the paper for review. Disclaimer: The views expressed by the authors in the publication do not necessarily reflect the views of the EuroQol Group.

8. Can I make my published paper available on my personal website?

Yes. The EQ WPS is freely accessible to any visitor of the EuroQol Group website and may be freely distributed by the author(s).
